From the Office of the CEO

State medical boards and other interested stakeholders are invited to submit feedback on draft recommendations recently released by the Advisory Commission on Additional Licensing Models. The recommendations, once finalized, are intended to help inform jurisdictions interested in developing or modifying additional licensing pathways for physicians who have completed training internationally. Comments may be submitted through December 6, 2024.

The draft recommendations were compiled in response to a growing number of U.S. state and territorial legislatures interested in modifying traditional post-graduate training requirements for medical licensure of physicians who have completed training internationally by eliminating the traditional requirement for completion of ACGME-accredited graduate medical education in the U.S.

The Advisory Commission was established by FSMB, Intealth and the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education (ACGME) to provide guidance about additional pathways for the state licensure of physicians who have completed training and practiced outside of the United States.
