Re: Organizational Charts

The attached organizational charts provide an update on the reporting structure of all College departments as of September 2022. The charts show the scope of College departments and capture reporting structures, generally positions at the associate director, chair, and director level and above. Although not individually shown on these charts, the College also employs approximately 80 full-time faculty members, approximately 175 full-time support staff assigned to both academic and non-instructional departments, approximately 200 adjunct instructors, and approximately 150 part-time support staff, each of whom are committed to the daily, ongoing support of the College's mission and our service to both our students and the community.
