Dear Ms. Courtney:

We are writing to inform the New Hampshire Board of Nursing (NHBON) that the purchase of Post University (Post) was finalized December 5, 2024. As described in the notice letter provided September 3, 2024, Universidad Andrés Bello (UNAB), through a U.S. subsidiary entity, acquired Post Education, Inc., the second-level parent company of Post University.

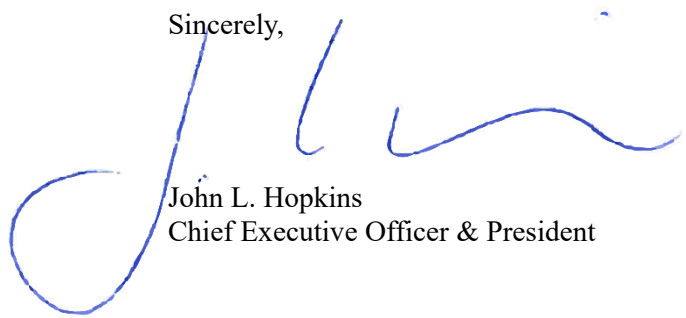

Post University is owned and operated by Post University, Inc., which is fully owned by its corporate parent, Post Education, Inc. Under the transaction, UNAB's wholly-owned U.S. subsidiary, UNAB EDUC HOLDINGS LLC, has become the parent of Post Education, Inc. Post will continue under the direct ownership of Post University, Inc., which remains wholly owned by Post Education, Inc.

UNAB is a private nonprofit university founded in 1988. It is located in Chile and is accredited by Middle States Commission on Higher Education. UNAB offers educational programs at the undergraduate and graduate levels, including diploma and certificate programs and bachelor, master's, doctoral, and professional degrees. UNAB currently has over 57,000 students enrolled, and 57.4% of undergraduate students are the first generation to attend college. UNAB prides itself on being a university of excellence.

UNAB and Post University will continue operating separately, each retaining their distinct academic operations and processes. Post will continue to operate as a for-profit institution under the oversight of its own board of trustees. Post University will also continue its separate accreditation with the New England Commission of Higher Education and will maintain its Connecticut Office of Higher Education licensure.

Post intends to continue its approval with NHBON and continue to comply with NHBON standards. Please contact me or Tom Bryant (Post University Vice President of Accreditation) if you should have any questions or if we can provide further information to NHBON.

Sincerely,

John L. Hopkins
Chief Executive Officer & President
