Dr. Craig Harrison – 2 Cases with Opportunities

Fin # 124780802

61-yo female with recent kidney transplant presented to ER on 02/18 with right-sided abdominal pain and emesis for 1 day. Concern for pyelonephritis and further test including UA was recommended, but patient stated she was feeling better and decline. She also declined the ER Team from contacting her Renal Transplant Team at Jackson Memorial, stating she will follow-up with them early the following week. Patient was then discharged from our ER 02/19 around 2am.

Returns to the ER later that day around 2:30pm via AMS with decreased mental status. Found to have electrolyte derangements, severe leukopenia, hypothermia with suspicion of sepsis shock. Patient continues to decline in the ER and coded. Transported to ICU in critical condition and expired. Concern: Inappropriate initial discharge from ER.

Score: Improvement Opportunity and educational letter sent to physician.

Fin # 124851688

86-yo female who is chronically incapacitated due to severe underlying COPD and chronic hypercarbic respiratory failure. On home oxygen and with history of thoracic kyphosis. Presented to the ER on 03/02 with dyspnea and cough. WBC 12.25, CO2 39, Resp in high 20s and noted to be hypoxic to 44% on room air in triage. No blood gas was obtained on this encounter. Treated with bronchodilators and steroids. Her clinical appearance improved significantly and was discharged home.

On 03/03, the next night, patient experienced a cardiac respiratory arrest at home and was brought to the ER by EMS. Pulseless on arrival and was intubated during ALCS. ROSC achieved and was transferred to the ICU on vasopressin and unresponsive. She experienced another cardiac arrest in ICU, made DNR status and expired. Concern: Return to the ED. Initial visit for COPD exacerbation, discharged stable at her baseline O2 requirements, returned in cardiac arrest, possibly running out of home O2, and expired.

Score: Potential Improvement Opportunity. ER Director had educational discussion with physician.

Dr. Eric Chenven – 1 Documentation Concern.

39 Female with arrest of dilatation and fever 101.5 to the OR for primary c-section. Patient had a surgical complication r/t bladder injury during delivery requiring multiple transfusions and intra-op urology consult for bladder injury. Concern: Lack of documentation related to complication.

Score: Care Acceptable and Educational letter sent to physician on documentation concerns.

Dr. Kenneth Herskowitz – 3 cases and all deemed as acceptable care.
