Free Birth to Five Developmental Screening

1st Thursday of each month!

What is a developmental screening?
A developmental screening is a tool that takes a closer look at how your child is developing.

Why is it important?

- Screenings help families understand their child's development.
- Screenings show important milestones and identify possible concerns as early as possible. Research tells us that the sooner a developmental concern is identified, the better. Early identification leads to early support and services that can improve a child's development and help them be their best.
- It's recommended! The American Academy of Pediatrics recommends all children be screened at least once a year.
  - Screenings are a great way to make sure that your child is developing on track for their age. You can learn about your child's strengths and ways to support their healthy development.
  - Screenings can also help determine if your child needs extra help or further evaluation. Our staff specializes in helping families who have concerns about their child's development. They can answer your questions and connect you to local resources.

SCAN ME!

Office of Professional Learning & Ed Services: NEXUS

Our team has been working hard to convert all of our data into a new custom-built data system for our entire professional development team, specifically, our student support team. With this new system, we can provide quicker data snapshots of the program. It has been a long process, but we are happy with the results and possibilities. This data snapshot is for the Nexus program. It changes often and rapidly with the work our team is doing daily.

Similar to Nexus, we have started a new system to pull data. This program has taken time to create but will allow for both programs to work more efficiently and be able to make meaningful programmatic decisions based on our local regional data.

Parents as Teachers First Years

Parents as Teachers First Years is excited to announce that we have been awarded one of the seven "Investing in the Power of Families" initiative grants awarded in Illinois!

Our award focuses on workforce development. The goal is to improve employee knowledge and skills, enhance program quality, and equip home visitors with additional tools and interventions that they can use to provide more effective support to families while supporting parent educators' well-being as they address stressful topics with families. We also want to provide staff members with less than a Bachelor's level of education with an incentive to complete additional classes towards the attainment of a BA in Early Childhood Education.

Parents as Teachers National Center recently issued the following statement: "We're proud to announce the launch of our "Investing in the Power of Families" initiative with grants totaling $1.75 million. This funding will support 62 affiliate organizations, empowering them to make a difference for families nationwide. This three-pronged initiative aims to restore family enrollments in affiliates' home visiting services, enhance mental and physical health support services, and foster systemic positive changes through engaged parent leaders. ❤️

Education Outreach Program

February was a busy month for our EOP students. With warmer weather comes transitions in many different ways. Most of our students are working towards GED testing and earning their diplomas, while many others are fighting to find employment opportunities. EOP and BEST, Inc. have been working diligently to place our students in Job Shadows or Work Experience opportunities to help transition from education to the workforce. We currently have 6 students working with BEST. We also have 4 students enrolled in Certification programs at Sauk Valley Community College with 4 more students interested in Welding and Truck Driver Training for the next semester.

One of our students, Chase, has been recognized as an Honors student and was asked to participate in creating an Honors Project with his instructors at SVCC. Chase was also awarded the Achievement Certificate and entered on the President's List as he has held a 4.00 in all of his Multi-Craft courses for the Fall Semester.

February was Financial Literacy month for our students as well. With our program, we are always encouraging our students to reach out about assistance with anything from where to cash a check to budgeting and have noticed a need to address some basic financial information. We asked Logan from Community State Bank in Sterling to come in and meet with some of our students. Logan was able to explain how banking at a smaller, local branch can be helpful. He was also able to explain the different services offered, banking fees, loans and interest rates.

EOP also would like to recognize Jerod for earning his Illinois High School Diploma through the Alternative Credentialing method. Congratulations Jerod! We currently have 12 students with only 1 GED test left to pass, 14 new enrollments and 6 graduates.

McKinney Vento Homeless Program

Services continue to flow to our Districts with the hopes of keeping our students engaged and supported with their educational struggles. With the end result being, educational success. FAFSA, which is financial support for students entering and involved with Post Secondary education, is a vital key for our McKinney Vento Students. Unfortunately, this federal program continues to be delayed at the federal level. This greatly impairs and drives the success of college selection. It especially involves the financial support that is greatly needed. Work will continue as this program progresses. Support for a wide range of educational needs continues to be needed and provided to the best of our ability.

Regional Center for Change

The theme for February was "Share the Love and Black History Month." The school calendar has been updated and reflects a new end-of-third quarter date, March 19th! Twenty students achieved Phoenix Rising status in February, and we hope to see many more students achieving this amazing goal in March!

WHAT IS ONEBOX?

The ONEbox (TM) is an emergency opioid overdose reversal kit designed to promote safety by assuring that individuals have life-saving, on-demand training when and where they need it. C4C is now equipped to provide emergency opioid overdose Narcan with ONEbox. The ONEbox kit is located in the main office above the medication safe. Angie, Ashley, and Mark are trained to provide this life-saving medication.

GUEST SPEAKER!!!!

We are finalizing a guest speaker to come to C4C sometime in April after state testing. The Juvenile Justice Council is sponsoring this dynamic and motivational speaker. The theme for his presentation will focus on our motto, "we are the center for change, not center for staying the same". Check out the link below for more info.

ICEARY

We are so excited to have the opportunity to send all of our C4C staff to the ICEARY conference in Bloomington Normal on March 7th and 8th. This conference offers exceptional professional learning opportunities with uplifting keynote speakers, relevant breakout sessions, and opportunities to exchange ideas with professionals nationwide. Attendees will walk away with new learning strategies, inspiring reflections, opportunities to grow professional networks, and practical strategies.

ACTIONS GOING TO THE PLANNING COMMISSION

- 1. Petition No. 24-P-75 by Lee County Zoning Office, a petition to amend the text of Chapter 5: Residential Districts, Article B: Single-Family Residential District, Section 6: Restrictions, under Title 10: Zoning Regulations, of the Lee County Code of Ordinances. The proposed text amendment would create regulations for the limited raising, housing and/or keeping of chickens in the R-2, Single Family Residential District.

OTHER ACTIONS FROM THE ZONING OFFICE

Deputy Zoning Administrator Laura Mangrum has been preparing for the Certified Floodplain Manager exam. As part of her preparation, she will be attending the FEMA Emergency Management

Institute in Maryland from March 10 to March 14, 2024. The course she will be attending is “Managing Floodplain Development Through the National Flood Insurance Program,” and it is considered the “gold standard” for floodplain training. The course is free, and Laura was awarded a scholarship that will reimburse her airfare for the trip. Her room is also free as she will be staying on campus. On Monday, March 18th, Laura will take the exam in Naperville. It is an intensive, closed-book exam; however, the results are instant. I wish the best on this endeavor.

On March 22, 2024, the Zoning Office will have its first visit from the National Floodplain Insurance Program. This visit is the first step for Lee County entering the Community Rating System (CRS) program, and they will be reviewing building permits that have been issued for properties located in the floodplain. The CRS program allows a community to earn points for going above and beyond the minimum floodplain regulations. As the County earns points, it will move up a level. The lowest level is 0 and the highest level is 10. Every time the County moves up a level, the residents of unincorporated Lee County will see a 5% reduction in their flood insurance premiums. At the highest level, residents can see a 45% reduction.

During the month of February 2024, the Zoning Office processed twenty-four (24) building permits (7 residential solar permits, 1 fence permit, 3 Ag building permits, 5 Woodhaven building permits, 5 building permits for accessory structures, and 3 building permits for cell tower alteration), and permit fees in the amount of $6,110.18 were collected.
