MONTHLY ASSESSMENT OFFICE REPORT
November 13, 2023 – County Services Committee

I am attending the annual Illinois Association of County Officials conference in Bloomington-Normal Monday through Wednesday this week and will not be able to attend the County Services Meeting. Please see my report below and feel free to reach out to me with any questions.

The assessment office has finalized assessment changes for the quadrennial reassessment of District 4, which is the eastern six townships: Alto, Reynolds, Viola, Willow Creek, Brooklyn and Wyoming. Also changes for any new construction, demolition or omitted property for the remainder of the county have been updated.

Township factors have been calculated and the files will be turned over today to Mail Services and the newspapers to prepare for publication. As discussed at last month's County Services meeting, we are looking at higher factors than in recent years to meet our statutorily required assessment of one third of the fair market value of properties. This is a multiplier that if not done at that county level, the state will step in and put on for us, so it benefits the county and taxpayers for the assessment office to due its due diligence in assessing and factoring with equity.

The target publication and mailing date of Change of Assessment Notices is November 22, 2023. Notices are mailed to all quadrennial reassessment township parcels and any other parcel that has had a change to their assessment other than the township factor applied. Property owners will have 30 days from the notice date to file an appeal to the Board of Review if they do not agree with the reassessment. We encourage all taxpayers to reach out to their township assessor or our office with questions.

The new GIS web portal on the new server launched Thursday, November 12th. The main page looks a bit different but public users should not have any problems. They will be automatically redirected to the new portal. A HUGE shout out to Sami Elarifi, GIS Coordinator and Virginia at Cloudpoint who we contracted with. They have put so much into rebuilding this server from the ground up so we can avoid further major breakdowns in the future. Thank you, Sami and Virginia!

Respectfully submitted,

Jennifer Boyd, CIAO
Chief County Assessment Officer/
GIS Supervisor

Pathway Playground offers career exploration day for area eighth-grade students

By Sarah Ford, AP Staff Writer

Regional Office of Education #47 of Lee, Ogle and Whiteside Counties hosted its annual Pathway Playground on Friday, Oct. 20 at Sauk Valley Community College in Dixon.

The event, now in its second year, was planned and organized by the ROE #47 Pathways team as a way to give eighth-grade students the opportunity to interact with businesses from Lee, Ogle and Whiteside counties.

More than a thousand students from Prophetstown-Lyndon-Tampico, Morrison, Rock Falls, River Bend, Byron, Amboy and Polo Middle Schools, Forreston Junior High, and Challand, Montmorency, and East Coloma schools attended the career exploration event to learn from experts in the field. The engaging event inspired students to think about their futures and align their interests with possible career paths.

Representatives from more than 70 businesses and industries set up shop for the day to provide insights into the work they do. Students were able to explore a variety of career opportunities through hands-on activities and discussions with professionals before heading back to school with bags full of goodies, products and brochures.

Students discovered career opportunities in manufacturing, engineering, technology, construction, trades, education, health care, meteorology, spa and salon, agriculture, criminal justice, law enforcement, funeral services, aviation and more. Representatives included Birkey's Farm Store, University of Illinois Extension 4-H, and Sterling Police Department's community service dog Brinkley, who was content with all the petting and attention.

Among the many activities offered were meteorology and green screens with WQAD, taking headshots of each other with Nicole Olinger Photography, learning how to install windows on garage doors with Raynor, and learning about law enforcement and healthcare careers. The Lee and Ogle County health departments provided information on public health careers and tested students' knowledge on vaping, smoking, and how to distinguish candy from drugs. Law-Jones Funeral Home had a skeletal "Jones' Bones" for examination.

"The Pathways Playground is a wonderful opportunity for students, teachers and businesses to connect and build partnerships to increase career exploration at the middle school level," said Chanda McDonnell of ROE #47's Pathways program. "This career exploration day plants the seed for area eighth-grade students of the careers available to them in their own backyard."

Office of Professional Learning & Ed Services: NEXUS

For Nexus, we are working with 87 families this school year. With the work our team has done with the families we are working with, we have been able to help our families reach over 175 goals this school year. Unfortunately, this year, we don't have the funds to provide the same types of Thanksgiving and Christmas supports we have been able to. We are exploring ways to gather additional funds to provide those supports in the future, but this year, we will be supporting on a smaller scale and trying to get families referred to other programs.

Office of Professional Learning & Ed Services: Student Attendance Support

Our Attendance Team has been busy meeting with our students and families this school year; we have worked with over 200 students. We are working heavily with our staff and the schools to correctly identify which students and families are genuinely truant and which students and families simply need some additional supports to address absenteeism. We see that parents are facing so many challenges and need support. They often will turn to the schools for that supports, but often, school districts may need more resources to work with those parents directly. That is what is great about our Nexus and Attendance Programs working together in partnership. We can address the family's needs and see if we can intervene in a more supportive manner.

Parents as Teachers First Years

Quality Endorsement:

We are thrilled to announce that our program has earned an endorsement as a Parents as Teachers Blue Ribbon Affiliate through the Parents as Teachers Quality Endorsement and Improvement Process (QEIP)! Blue Ribbon Affiliates are recognized as exemplary affiliates, delivering high-quality services to children and families. But we couldn't have done it without our valuable partners -- all of the families who participate in our program and graciously welcome our home visitors into their homes.

About the Parents as Teachers Quality Endorsement and Improvement

Process:

Implementation with quality and fidelity is vital in home-visiting programs as it determines a program's effectiveness in accomplishing its original goals and intended outcomes. It also verifies that a program is being implemented as designed.

The Parents as Teachers Quality Endorsement and Improvement Process helps ensure that Parents as Teachers affiliates are achieving fidelity to the Parents as Teachers model and facilitates continuous quality improvement. Parents as Teachers affiliates are required to engage in the Quality Endorsement and Improvement Process in their fourth year of implementation and every five years after that.

Parents as Teachers' rigorous endorsement process demonstrates an affiliate's accountability and credibility to the community, its funders, elected officials, and the partner organizations with which they work. Programs that earn the Quality Endorsement are recognized by Parents as Teachers National Center as exemplary Blue Ribbon Affiliates, delivering high-quality services to children and families.

Basic Assessment of Speech Sounds Research Project:

Also this year, our program is participating in a research project with the developers of the Ages and Stages Developmental Screening tool. The developers are researching the accuracy and usefulness of a new speech sounds production screening measure called the Basic Assessment of Speech Sounds, Research Edition (BASS-R). Home visitors and parents both complete a screener on children ages 2 and above which is used to collect validity and reliability data on the BASS-R tool. Parents also have the option to complete an additional online session with a researcher and their child. Following the submission of the tool to the research team and optional additional online session, parents are provided with a stipend as a thank-you for their participation. This is an optional assessment, but parents have been very receptive and willing to participate in this research project. What a great opportunity to be able to provide data for a future tool which may be used for early identification of potential speech difficulties!

Education Outreach Program

Bring on November! We are very busy moving forward and looking to fill our classrooms. The Education Outreach Program would like to introduce a new teacher for our Oregon office, Martha Mauch. Martha comes to us with years of experience teaching upper level high school Math. She will also meet with our Dixon students that have transportation as a barrier.

The Education Outreach Program is funded and partners with our friends at the Business Employment Skills Team, INC and will begin the process of planning some leadership activities for our students. One that was a big success in the past was the Reverse Job Fair. We look forward to organizing more activities to get our students set up for success in the workforce.

Lastly, we would like to congratulate Olivia on earning her Illinois High School Diploma. Olivia plans to obtain her Realtor Licensure and is scheduled to take the exam in February when she turns 18! Olivia completed her GED testing and Career Readiness skills in just 7 months; she is a true testament to what motivation and hard work can do.

McKinney Vento Homeless Program

Training has taken place to educate our districts on services and needs for Youth in Care. Mostly affected by this area are the students in the Foster Care System. This is a vulnerable population. Educational success is key to their overall success. Services and support continually are needed for providing educational supplies and resources. This is supported on a case by case situation. Proper identification is always the starting point for our program.

Regional Center for Change

Students from C4C made their annual trip to Selmi's pumpkin patch. Students earned the reward to attend Selmi's by demonstrating the following expectations: positive behavior, completing academic coursework, and improving attendance!

Staff, too, were able to enjoy time at Selmi's! We are so fortunate to have such an amazing staff!

Our first quarter students of the month at C4C. Jaylah comes to us from Sterling High School, and Matthew is one of our few students from Eastland. Way to go, Jaylah and Matthew. You are the antithesis of our C4C motto, "Center for Change, NOT Center for Staying the Same."

All C4C staff were trained and certified in non-violent crisis prevention. A special thank you to our trainers from Bi-County Special Education Cooperative for a great training! Above is Tony Crisp, trainer, demonstrating a hold on one of our paraprofessionals, Emme Anspach.
