(Feel free to include a separate page if desired.):

Andrew has lived in the valley for over 20 years but grew up in northern Colorado. He has worked at the First National Bank of Las Animas for over 20 years as well and brings knowledge of finance and audits to the council. He also lives in Las Animas, which is in Bent County, so he would be an advocate and conduit of information to one of our service area counties. In addition, Andrew has first hand community college experience, as he attended Front Range Community College before transferring to the University of Colorado. He has served on multiple other boards and is well prepared for this role. Andrew's children have taken Otero concurrent courses, so he has a unique perspective and can see situations from the side of administration and as a parent. He has been an extremely valued member of the Advisory Council, he has vast knowledge of our community and programs and really puts effort into being informed. He is always prepared for meetings, reads all of the documents and reports, and asks very thoughtful and poignant questions. We can count on him to show up for all meetings and he continues to grow in his understanding of our Child Development Services program.

Mr. Huffman obtained an associate degree from Front Range Community College and a bachelors degree in Business Administration from Regis.
